Benchmark and corporate action information

Some performance differences between the fund and the benchmark may arise because the fund performance is calculated at a different valuation point from the benchmark. On 02.04.2012 Schroder ISF Pacific Equity changed its name to Schroder ISF Asian Opportunities. On 01.12.2005 the benchmark changed from MSCI AC Far East ex Japan (TR) to MSCI AC Asia ex Japan (TR). The full track record of the previous index has been kept and chain linked to the new one. The fund's performance should be assessed against its target benchmark being to exceed the MSCI AC Asia ex Japan (Net TR) index and compared against the Morningstar Asia ex Japan Equities Category. The fund's investment universe is expected to overlap to a limited extent with the components of the target benchmark. The comparator benchmark is only included for performance comparison purposes and does not have any bearing on how the investment manager invests the fund's assets. The investment manager invests on a discretionary basis and there are no restrictions on the extent to which the fund's portfolio and performance may deviate from the target benchmark. The investment manager will invest in companies or sectors not included in the target benchmark in order to take advantage of specific investment opportunities. The target benchmark has been selected because it is representative of the type of investments in which the fund is likely to invest and it is, therefore, an appropriate target in relation to the return that the fund aims to provide. The comparator benchmark has been selected because the investment manager believes that the benchmark is a suitable comparison for performance purposes given the fund's investment objective and policy.
